CAMPBILL, PREW & CO.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. IL. It would seem that the Hon. Thomas C. Theaker, formerly of this neighbor-hood, across the water, has been invited to resign his position as Commissioner of Patents. It is said he will not comply with the invitation, but will await removal.

THE National Union Committee meets to-day at Washington city to designate the time and place of boiling a Convention to nominate candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presi dency. There is said to be a sharp competition between Chicago and Cin-cinnati as to which shall be the place. The former, according to a Washington letter; has not only offered to get up a rigwam," such as it furnished for iding the Convention in 1860, but is likewise ready to contribute $15,000 in cash as a campaign fund. And it still later news from Washington is to be credited, the Chicago agents are ready to approach the individual members o mmitte with bribes. The parties representing that city mean business it would seem. Cincinnati is bestirring herself at the eleventh hour, and we ob-serve in the Times of that place that a meeting of prominent persons was held at the Burnet House last Saturday night reat vigorous ways and means were inaugurated for making Cincinnati influence felt at Washington. Ever since the Buchapan Convention st Cincinnati in 1856, when the botels scalined such an unenvisue reputation with the political public on account of their bigh charges, there has been no special desire manifested on the part of anybody to hold another convention in that city. She may success this time, as Chicago has had one Republican Convention since that party was organized. The fact that Gen, Grant is expected to be the candidate may, however, turn the scale in favor of the latter city, he being an Illinois man. Probably Mr. Lincoln's nomination in 1860, was owing to the fact that the Convention was held in Chicago. It is very doubtful whether he could have been nominated at Cincinnati. Strange as it may seem, the clinical and the could have been nominated at Cincinnati. Strange as it may seem, the clinical and the could have been nominated at Cincinnati. Strange as it may seem, the clinical and the could have been nominated at Cincinnati. Strange as it may seem, the clinical and the could have been nominated at Cincinnation of the could have been nominated at Cincinn is held, has no insignificant influence in determining the choice. Therefore, wesay, that the friends of Gen. Grant (and the Chairman of the National

CONSERVATIVE convention meet ond to-day. There will then e two conventions in session in that city, the one just mentioned, and the Underwood-Hunnicutt, or Reconstruc-tion convention. It is hard to tell who the former represent outside of the ranks of the regular rebel element, ve presume there is a remnant of me other sort to which they can claim The idea of holding a conserva-convention is, to take steps to create ore decided public opinion at the North against the proceedings going on in the rival concern, and to sir up all the possible elements of influence against it both at home and at Washington. In regard to the programme to-day, we cannot speak, but presume the following dispatch from Richmond far as it goes, in regard to the sentiment likely to be entertained:

g the next Convention.

A conversation with the leading Con-ervative delegates, who have arrived or the Convention that assembles on northe Convention that assembles on Wednesday, demonstrates a desire to reconstruct the State upon liberal principles. They will probably issue an address to the people of the United States, which will embody the feeling, necessities and interest of the people of Virginia. The Convention will be opposed to negro suffrage, and favor impartial suffrage that will place the white and colored on an equal feeting. For al suffrage that will place the white colored on an equal footing. For wat President the Convention will exi President the Convention will Grant and the New York plat-E-Congressman Thomas Flouris a delegate from Halifax county, niggerdom" of the State, He sels moderation, is anxious for ration, and as one of the "Young ins," and a former friend of Mr. in, his views will have weight will probably be five hundred ates at this Convention.

peachment movement, expresses the opinion that the final vote will be de layed for several months. This is the most probable view of the matter. The vote in all likelihood will be postponed until Mr. Johnson's term of office shall until Mr. Johnson's term of office shall have expired and his successor been inaugurated. The members favoring impeschment will then discover that there is no occasion for a vole. There is as little danger that Mr. Johnson will be impeached as that he will be re-elected. THE Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company have declared the usual quarierly dividend of 2) per cent, free of government tax, on their stock of $11,500,000, payable on the 16th of January, and they anticipate, at the same time, the first of April 3½ per cent on the $2,000,000 of their third mortgage bonds. THE sales of H. B. Claffin & Co., of New York, for the past three years, foot up $195,000 000, and those of A. T. Stewart & Co., $143,000,000; but Claffin's sales have decreased year by year from $78,000,000 to $57,000,000, while Stewart's have increased from $43,000,000 to $50,000,000.

ONE hundred and seventy-five thousand words were telegraphed North and West from Washington between the hours of S A. M. on the 2d and 3 A. M. on the 3d. This is

Out of hearing of the young girl's family, the erraged mother informed the young lady that if sheever again permitted her son to go to see her she (the young man's mother) would give her an awin whaling." The girl was grit to the backbone, and informed the mother that the young man could come to see her just as often as he pleased, and she would marry him if he wanted, her to do so. This was too much for the mother, and she commenced an assault upon the girl, giving her a stuning blow in the isce as an eye-opener. The girl came to time in gallant style, and planted several well directed blows in the mother's face. Finally they cliched, and down they went upon the track, the girl on top, and thus situated the fight was conducted in the flerost manner. Act his stage of the proceedings the train of conductor Tommy Hanlon, bound for this city, came in sight, The engineer whistled 'down brakes,' for he could see the parties on the track. The train was stopped, and the efficers of it and whistled "down brakes," for he could see the parties on the track. The train was stopped, and the officers of it and the passengers in it got off and repaired to the scene of action, cheering on the combatants. Finally, the mother shouted out, "take her off, she's gouging my eyes out," and they were parted. The mother was much creatfalles, and declared she'd go home "and lick Jake." her aunorous son, "within an inch of his life." She will not be likely, however, to again, "harness?" Jake's "girl.

The two companies are only rivals in the effort to display the greater enter-prise. The government subsidies and the advantageous bonds of each turnish the funds in sufficient amount to render financial questions easy of sattlement.

THE Convention of Express Compa nies which has been in session in New York for several days, and the holding of which gave rise to the rumor of onsolidation of the Merchants' Unio has made mutual and amicable ar rangements for the interchange of freight and packages, as common carriers. This puts an end to the Express war which has been raging ever since the Merchants' Union commenced business, and places that institution in the front rank of Express Companies in this country. Esonomy and good management, with a persistent desire on the part of stockholders to "back" the new concern, have brought about this result, which cannot but prove a great benefit to the mercantile community throughout the States. The runners in regard to a consolidation of the companies are entirely without foundation.

An hundred years ago the space of the basks of "the testuiful river" now covered by the manufacturing town of Wisseling, was an idle wild, unsurpassed on the great continent for natural beauties and advantages, yet still an untained woodland of "flood and fell" where the foot of civilized man or domestic animal had ne'er or rarely been for the south branch of the Potomac, who first pitched their tests among our hills, were severed from friends and kindred by mountain and wave, exposed to every hardship, to deadly and constant dager, and it is but just their their deeds should be familiar among us as nursery rhymes, though

Among the women of that olden time, who accompanied the pioneer band, and shared its perils and its honors, were the sisters of Col. Zane, the heroine of the gunpowder deed, whose story has been too often told for me to re-tell it here, and his wire, sister to Major McCulloch, of the famous leap memory, herself a person of marked and unusual character, as an aneodote which I purpose giving here, will tiers, the Indians had no more mali-cious purpose in view than to annoy and alarm the whites, but at times their attacks became formidable and fraught with danger to life and property. On one of these occasions about the close of the last border war, during an un-looked for night attack, Mr. Zaue's eabln was fired and his family com-pelled to flee to the fort a short distance of Children.

collecting some valuable documents left in the barning bouse, she inid the child in the woman's arms, saying only, "Hurry on Mollie with the baby, iwill go back for Mr. Zane's papers." She did go, returning unhurt, with the rescued deeds. Whether she owed her escape to the latent galantry of the savages, or to, the more immediate and etticient protection of her friends in the fort, is past finding out. I tell the tale as it was told to me, one or the stories of primitive times and border life lingering in memory since child hood, and cheriabed all the more dearly that they fell from loved lips now forever alient.
